Your Project's Bottom Line is Dramatically Impacted by Delayed Decisions Based on Wrong Document Versions and What Should Be the Simple Task of Looking & Collaborating on Project Docs

If there's any one task that we do each day in our industry, it's making constant changes to plans and then either emailing the files, outsourcing the printing, or printing in-house on plotters, every time there's an updated draft.

Projects can be put on hold for a few hours to a few days as turnaround and delivery times can often delay the communication process. And what version is everyone looking at?

More and more construction industry leaders are leaving the paper trail behind and adapting their employees to the mobile business of construction. Gone are the days of propping blueprints on the hood of your truck at the job site.

Instead, we are using smartphones, tablets and now iPlanTables to be nimble on the jobsite. By going digital, you can revise estimates, update punch lists, collaborate on projects rapidly and more accurately -- leaving printed drawings and specs behind.

Let's be honest -- print slows us down.

What is your cost of printing, plotting and document retention?

Open the door to your storage room and you'll see the print costs stacked up in front of you in the rolls of drawings staring back at you.

It's YOUR choice!
